AUGUST 25: FIGHTING SLAVERY IN S.F.'S CHINATOWN

◆ Best-selling author and journalist Julia Flynn Siler will present The White Devil's Daughters: The Women Who Fought Slavery in San Francisco's Chinatown. This is also the title of her book. During the first hundred years of Chinese immigration—from 1848 to 1943—San Francisco was home to a shockingly extensive underground slave trade in Asian women, who were exploited as prostitutes and indentured servants. Julia examines this little-known chapter in our history—and gives us a vivid portrait of the safe house to which enslaved women escaped. Accompanied by historical photos from the book, she'll explore the Marin settings and people in her nonfiction book.
